REPORTED SPEECH

Reported speech is when we tell someone what an other person said. To do this we can use direct speech or indirect speech. Look at the pictures and notice how Arun reports what Smith has said in both direct and indirect speech

Things to remember while reporting a speech.

- Reporting verbs (Smith said that he would come the next day.)
- Conjunctions (Smith said that he would come the next day.)
- Pronoun (Smith said that he would come the next day.)
- Tenses (Smith said that he would come the next day.)
- Adverbs (Smith said that he would come the next day.)
